Coronavirus: Working Together

The Kendall County Health Department, alongside the Kendall County Fire Chiefs want to share some very important information that can help everyone during this COVID19 pandemic.

Getting through this crisis means working together. More than ever before, the actions each of us take at home when we feel sick, makes a difference to everyone else. If you feel ill, with a headache, cough, fever, sneezing or a runny nose, call your primary care physician.

During these times we will need to be fighting this virus together. That means giving up some of the social things we love so much like; hugging, shaking hands, and standing next to one another. Try to stand 6 feet other people when picking up food, medication or doing other essential things in the community. The more we can stay home, the more we can force the flattening of this curve (Executive Order Summary).

Please continue to go to the Kendall County Health Department website to keep in touch with this evolving situation. Community members are welcome to call the Kendall County Health Department at (630)553-9100 with questions.
